Senate Adopts Cloture on World Court Debate

Washington, Jan. 25.—American adherence to the world court, around which is pivoting a fight as bitter as the memorable League of Nations struggle, was brought a step closer this afternoon when the senate upset a cherished tradition and imposed cloture upon itself for the second time in its history.

The restriction of debate presages a final vote on American adherence within a week, and the vote by which this was accomplished this afternoon left little doubt as to the ultimate outcome.

The vote was 68 to 26.

The irreconcilables and a handful of senators inherently opposed to cloture opposed restriction of debate.

Unnumbered and outvoted the irreconcilables found solace only in the adoption of such drastic reservations as virtually make the senate itself and not the president, the judge of what shall be submitted to the court's jurisdiction.

The vote was taken before a monster crowd that jammed the galleries and forced Capitol police to establish lines in the corridors. The occasion was given a dramatic touch by the presence of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war president, who came to see her husband's great post war dream of international peace take a long step nearer realization.

By adopting cloture, the senate limited each senator to one hour's debate in all upon not only the resolution of adherence but upon all reservations and amendments as well. As most of the pro-court senators will not utilize their full time and there are only sixteen irreconcilables, the final vote probably will come within thirty hours of debate, sometime next Saturday or Monday. Cloture also shuts off the introduction of all new reservations and amendments and all "dilatory motions" are out of order.

WATER COUNTY ACTIVE IN STATE BAIL ASSOCIATION

At the meeting of the New York State Bar Association held in New York city on Saturday, Judge Clearwater as chairman of the committee on American citizenship presented the report of that committee, and as chairman of the committee upon extradition territorial taxation presented its report, both of which unanimously were approved by the association. In addition to these committees, the judge was the chairman of the committee to confer with the court of appeals, and the committee to consider amendments to the civil practice act. The attendance at the meeting of the association was large. Among the Ulster county members present were Judge Betts, Judge Van Elten, Judge Joseph M. Fowler, Senator Walton, Barry H. Flemming, Judge Cunningham, who delivered an address upon the criminal law and practice. Ex-Governor Charles E. Hughes, who delivered a masterly address upon the World Court, also ranks as an Ulster county man.

NEWBURGH PAINTERS' UNION ASKS 5 DAY WEEK

The first agitation for the five day week in Newburgh has been begun by the Painters' and Decorators' Union which has decided to demand a five day week beginning on May 1. The painters have also asked for a daily wage rate of $10 a day. The decision to make this demand was made at a recent meeting and apparently the painters have not much doubt that the five day proposal will go over. They say that it is already in effect in New York and in Yonkers and in other parts of Westchester county.

The present wage rate is $1 an hour or $8 per day. This figure the painters say is materially below the prevailing wage in New York city and vicinity.

WITNESS CALLS INTERRUPTED INTERNATIONAL TEST

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—The oil tanker Vacuum rammed and sank the Norwegian steamer Solvang off Wilmington, Delaware, according to wireless reports early today. One member of the crew of the Solvang is missing and believed to have been drowned. The lights of the Solvang were sighted 40 miles south of Delaware breakwater.

Benedictine Auxiliary Dies

The attention of members of the Benedictine Hospital is called to an error made in the announcement sent to members for collection of dues. The announcement read the Kingston City Hospital Auxiliary and should have been the Benedictine. Dues may be paid to Miss McGinn, treasurer.

Flyers Postpone Trip

Los Angeles, Canary Islands, Jan. 25.—Stormy weather and heavy rain today caused the Spanish transatlantic flyers again to postpone their departure on the second leg of their air journey to the Argentine and Brazil. Their destination was Porto Praya, Cape Verde.

Underworld Turns Back on Durkin

Efforts Of Family To Secure Prominent Attorney Futile—No Plan To Make A Defense Fund.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25.—Marty Durkin, "the copper killer" had a dash of despair added today to his cup, already near full of disillusion. The news was broke to him that his family's week end efforts to induce some attorney of prominence to take his case had been futile and that no plan to raise a defense fund for him has been forthcoming. The underworld, it was discovered, far from being engaged in raising a "pot of gold" for him, has turned a cold shoulder in his direction.

His sole cash assets have been seized by the government because they represented the proceeds of an automobile stolen in another state. His jewelry has been given to his bride—the former Irma Sullivan of Cornell, Ill.—for her support. It begins to look as though Durkin's fight to escape the gibbet will have to be paid for by the state which is seeking to send him there.

The crushing blow at Durkin's self esteem was struck today when Joseph Korts, an illiterate foreigner held on robbery charge, demanded that he be taken out of the cell they are occupying together.

"I did not know who and what he was until yesterday," said Korts with a grimace.

International Tests This Week

International Radio Tests To Continue With Hopes For Better Results—Only One Foreign Station Satisfactory Sunday Night

New York, Jan. 25.—The international radio tests scheduled for this week will be continued tonight with hopes for better results than were attained last night when an S. O. S. call from a sinking ship hampered experiments, together with unfavorable weather conditions.

All American stations will sign off at 11 o'clock, Eastern standard time, for one hour to allow foreign stations to broadcast for the benefit of the remainder of the radio world.

The foreign stations which will participate in the program abroad tonight, with their wave lengths, are:

OAX Lima, Peru 350.
LOW, Buenos Aires, 300.
LOX, Buenos Aires, 375.
EAL-13, Barcelona, 460.
EAL-7, Madrid, 273.
Hamburg, 293.
Vienna, 530.
Prague, 358.
Stuttgart, 446.
Berlin, 505.
Brussels, 263.
Breslau, 416.
Munich, 455.

One of the features of international test week will be a program tonight between 9 and 10 o'clock, eastern standard time by WYNY in which Mayor James J. Walker will broadcast greetings to continental listeners. Matilda Lindsay, soprano, will sing "The Star Spangled Banner" with Vincent Lopez at the piano. A dance program by the Richmond orchestra will also be broadcast.

During the hour for broadcasting from European stations, radio fans as a whole reported that only 6-8 M. Bournemouth, England "came through" with any degree of success. The program from 2-L.O. London, was reported generally as unintelligible, with few signals from Barcelona or South American stations recorded.

Tax Relief by March 15 Dubious

Washington, Jan. 25.—Tax relief by March 15, the date on which 1925 returns are due, appeared doubtful today with the senate in a snarl, and the house serving notice that it will not swallow weekly the changes made in the bill by the senate.

Seven weeks from today is the date on which returns must be made, unless the treasury extends the time for filing, and the senate has not even started debating the bill yet.

Once clear of the World Court, League of Nations jam the tax bill faces an extended fight in the senate. The clashes will be sharp and likely prolonged over the elimination of the estate taxes, the repeal of the public stock tax, and the repeal of the attacks that will be made on the income as a "rich man's" tax because of the drastic cuts in surtax rates.

Representative William R. Green served formal notice on the senate today that the house is not going to see its handiwork demolished without a fight.

O. E. S. Card Party

On Friday evening, January 25, a card party will be held at Masonic Hall, Wall street, under the auspices of Clinton Chapter, O. E. S. Five hundred, phoebic and bridge will be played. The games will start promptly at eight o'clock. There will be prizes. Refreshments are included in the price of a admission.

Expect Approval Of Col. Haskell

As Commander of the State National Guard by the Senate in Session This Week—Preparing Annual Appropriation Bill.

Albany, Jan. 25.—Approval by the Senate of Governor Smith's appointment of Colonel William N. Haskell, U. S. A., as commander of the State National Guard, is expected to take place at this week's session of the Legislature, which convenes tonight.

On the day after Colonel Haskell's appointment was transmitted to the upper house by the executive, the Defense Society, Inc., of New York, asked that the Senate investigate Haskell's alleged sympathy for Soviet Russia. A day later, however, the Defense Society announced it had withdrawn its request having been convinced that Colonel Haskell was qualified for the post of adjutant general.

There will be a meeting of the finance committee of the upper house tomorrow after the session and it is understood that the appointment of Colonel Haskell will be favorably reported. His nomination probably will be confirmed the following day.

Fiscal leaders of the Legislature hope to have the annual appropriation bill, totalling $138,000,000 ready for introduction the latter part of this week. The bill calls for approximately $12,000,000 more than last year. Of the increase, $10,000,000 is for schools, according to the report of the board of estimate and control, which prepared the budget.

Democratic members of both houses are expected to introduce several bills this week carrying out recommendations made by Governor Smith in his annual message. One, it is understood, will provide for the abolition of the Motion Picture Censorship Commission. The Republicans rejected a similar measure last year but because of the fact that the commission now will be in complete control of the Democrats, there has been much speculation as to what will be done at the present session.

The committee headed by Charles E. Hughes, it is understood, will recommend that the censorship commission, or at least its functions, be transferred to the state education department. The Hughes commission is planning reorganization of the state government and expects to have its report ready for the Governor and the Legislature early next month.

May Probe Loans And Mortgages

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 25.—A legislative investigation into scores of mortgages and loan organizations is being considered by Republican leaders of the Legislature, it was learned at the capitol today.

"There is agitation for a sweeping investigation of mortgage and loan organizations but nothing definite has been decided," Lieutenant Governor Lowman said.

Letters have been received by Senator Knight, Republican leader of the upper house, urging such an investigation. Several large mortgage and loan companies, according to complaints received by the legislative leaders, have been disposing of bonds on new buildings which the companies themselves have underwritten. Banking officials are said to have become alarmed at what they termed the excessive float of these so-called "guaranteed" realty bonds.

In a letter to Senator Enright, James A. Beha, state superintendent of insurance, stressed the danger of unrestrained and unsupervised promotion by bond houses of building projects.

Despatches From Foreign Parts

Manila, Jan. 25.—Seismographs here today registered a slight earthquake. The origin, it was said, was in the sea and did not seriously affect the islands.

London, Jan. 25.—Historic St. Paul's was threatened today when fire broke out near the great cathedral.

The cathedral was not damaged but the plant of the British-American Novelty Company was wrecked.

London, Jan. 25.—The Maharajah of Indore is expected to resist and defy efforts of the Indian government to force his abdication as the result of the Mumtaz Begum affair, according to advices received from Delhi today.

The Maharajah, it is reported, will claim that ancient treaties make him inviolate and that he cannot be held responsible for the alleged attack upon Mumtaz, the daughter of the British ruler, which resulted in the death of her brother, Prince Bhopal, the wealthy Bombay merchant.

Banned to Death

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 25.—Trapped by a fire which destroyed his home, Robert Barrar, 45, was burned to death early today. He was president of the Baltimore-Searlet Company, steamship agent, and was well known in shipping circles here and abroad.

Confesses He Mutilated Body

Chiropractor Says Miss Dietrich Took Poison In His Office And He Dismembered Her Body For Fear Of Being Accused.

Media, Pa., Jan. 25.—Dr. David R. Marshall, 42, a chiropractor of Wyndwood Heights, a Philadelphia suburb, was formally charged with the murder of Miss Anna May Dietrich, 34, today, after he confessed dismembering her body in his office in Philadelphia, and later disposing of the torso, legs and head.

Marshall, prodded and urged by District Attorney William Taylor and Captain A. J. Sweeney, a private detective, ended the severe grilling he was subjected to for more than ten hours, by sobbing out the confession in a broken, jerky and disconnected manner.

Says She Took Poison

The chiropractor insisted he did not kill Miss Dietrich. He maintained steadfastly she committed suicide by taking poison while he was out of the office eating supper. He said she told him of a love affair with a New York man shortly before he left her, according to his story to Taylor. He said he dismembered the body because he feared the responsibility.

Marshall admitted being acquainted with the dead girl since 1917, saying he went out with her two and three times weekly.

Marshall, on the verge of a breakdown, was placed in a cell after having signed the confession. He was to be taken to Philadelphia later in the day for questioning.

Meanwhile, authorities are awaiting the outcome of the chemical analysis of the contents of the dead girl's stomach to determine the veracity of the chiropractor's assertion that Miss Dietrich died from the effects of poison which she took in his office.

Marshall said that as he was leaving his office last Tuesday evening he met Miss Dietrich in front of a restaurant near his office. Her arms were filled with bundles and she appeared dejected.

"Found Her Dead"

"I asked her how she felt," Marshall stated, "and she answered that she was miserable and wished she might die. I invited her up to my office, suggesting that I might be able to do something for her which would make her feel better, and she assented. I gave her the key, bidding her to go up herself, as I would be away for about an hour. When I returned she was stretched on the floor virtually unconscious. I worked over her for an hour, but she failed to regain consciousness. She died and I grew worried. I was afraid the medical profession would say a chiropractor was the cause of her death."

Describes His Actions

"I was afraid to report her death to the authorities, for fear they might accuse. So I hid the body in my office and said nothing. I left it there over Tuesday night while I went home. I couldn't sleep, however."

"The next morning I procured a hacksaw and knife and cut up the body. I disposed of the implements and walked out of my office with the parts of the body wrapped in paper, and placed them in my automobile. I drove to Rose Tree and disposed of the pieces."

"I discovered to my horror the next morning that I had forgotten the head in my office, and I wrapped it up and made another trip to the spot where it was found."

District Attorney William Taylor, to whom Marshall made this confession, asked the chiropractor what poison Miss Dietrich had taken.

"I don't know," he said. "It was a white powder. I found the bottle beside her. Afterward I threw it away with the hacksaw and knife."

"Why did she take poison?" the prosecutor asked.

"She felt badly. She had been fitted by a rich New York man—Nichols was his name—and she had been very much in love. She told me she would rather be dead than live without him."

Marshall went all to pieces at the conclusion of his examination and begged to be let alone. He pleaded with the prosecutor to see that his wife and nine-year-old son were taken care of. In his relations with Miss Dietrich he had recognized himself as a bachelor. It was not until after he had been confronted with the dissected body that Marshall made his confession. The law had been served in place, the arms folded across the chest and the severed head laid upon the shoulder.

Kicked Food Out Of Wife's Arms

Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth Tells Judge Husband Has Not Worked in Three Weeks—House Is Without Heat or Food—Husband Given Another Chance.

"He has not worked in three weeks and there is no food in the house nor anything to furnish heat with, and I have to go over to my sister's to keep myself and baby warm," said Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth to Judge Augustus Shufeldt in police court this morning explaining how she happened to call the police to the house, No. 135 Greenkill avenue, on Sunday evening when she had her husband arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Sunday she had gone over to her sister's house with her baby and was returning home that evening with some food in her arms which her sister had given her when she met her husband. She said that she had asked her husband Sunday morning early if he would not go out and try and pick up some wood so that they could have a little heat in the house. He had dressed and gone out and that was the last she saw him until that evening on her way home when he kicked the food out of her arms into the snow.

Mrs. Ellsworth said her husband spent his time looking for a job in a saloon near the house on Wilbur avenue. She said she had asked the saloon keeper to keep her husband about it. She said that her husband instead of seeking a job would wash the saloon keeper's automobile for him. She was unable to go out to work as she expected the stork to leave another baby at their home in May.

Ellsworth said that he would plead guilty to raising a little rumpus Sunday night, but that he had tried to get a job and had one promised him this afternoon.

After talking the matter over Judge Shufeldt sentenced Ellsworth to thirty days in the county jail and suspended sentence pending good behavior. Judge Shufeldt informed the wife that if her husband did not get work and stop mistreating her, to report the matter at once to him and he would take other measures. She informed the court that her husband was intoxicated almost every night.

Say Smith Will Become a Banker

Post of Chairman of Board of Newly Organized "County Trust Company" Is Left Vacant and Friends Say Governor Will Take the Post.

New York, Jan. 25.—Friends of Governor Smith were freely predicting today that he is to become a banker on January 1, 1927, when he has said he will return to private life and enter business.

This speculation came on the heels of the announcement of the list of directors of the newly organized "County Trust Company," which is to begin operations about February 15. The post of chairman of the board was strangely left vacant and according to good information is to be left open until Governor Smith's term has expired.

If Governor Smith joins the trust company his associates will include James J. Riordan, organizer of the United States Trucking Corporation, of which Governor Smith was formerly the head; Vincent Astor, William H. Woodlin, former fuel administrator and president of the American Car and Foundry Company, and several other close friends of the governor.

Take Everything From House Afire

Another fire occurred at Gardiner Friday and burned so slowly that it was even possible to remove the linoleum from the kitchen floor, the home being that of James George, one mile west of that village at the foot of the Gardiner hill. The home of Mr. George was destroyed despite the fact that the fire was discovered before the conflagration had passed possible control. The lack of sufficient fire fighting apparatus being blamed as the cause of the destruction.

Mr. George discovered the fire about 6:20. It had originated near the chimney. He transferred his wife and five children from the burning building to the home of a neighbor and then summoned help. Neighbors unsuccessfully fought the flames with pails and other utensils of water. As the fire slowly continued, the neighbors procured every article of furniture, even to the stove and contents of the floor.

Try Goldman Case On February 1

Attorney General's Offer, Which Will Represent The People To Be Ready Then—Four Defendants Pleaded Guilty.

In county court this morning District Attorney Traver announced that he had been requested by the representative of the attorney general's office who would represent The People in the murder trial of Samuel Goldman that the case would be ready for trial on Monday afternoon, February 1, at 2 o'clock.

Arthur Kidd and Frederick Barber, two young men who were involved with two others in the entry of the A. D. Jones store on Franklin street, entered pleas of guilty and the imposition of sentence was suspended. In that case the other two defendants were given a suspended sentence and as Mr. Rose did not desire to press the charge, Barber and Kidd were directed to report to Probation Officer Service for instructions.

Joseph Charles, indicted for driving a car while intoxicated as a second offense, was given five months in jail on his plea of guilty to the charge.

Elling Hasbrouck, indicted for driving a car while intoxicated, also entered a plea of guilty and was given 15 days in jail.

Court then went into recess until two o'clock.

Mitchell Verdict Goes to Coolidge

Persistent Reports That Davis Recommended a Diminution of Sentence—President Faces Possible Political Consequences.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Colonel William Mitchell's five year suspension sentence was placed in the hands of President Coolidge today for final approval.

It is expected that the president will mitigate the sentence.

While the war department refused to comment officially, there were persistent reports that Secretary of War Davis had recommended a diminution of the sentence to suspension for three years, with a restoration of a small part of Mitchell's pay.

In this recommendation, it is believed the president will concur.

Previous to sending the sentence to the White House, Davis received an opinion from Major General John A. Hull, Judge advocate general, upholding the sentence from a legal standpoint. There were, reports, however, that Hull counseled Davis to recommend a mitigation.

Because of his desire to dispose of the case speedily, it is believed that President Coolidge will announce his decision within a few days.

Should the president uphold the sentence, even though cutting it in half, it is expected that Mitchell will resign from the army. This procedure has been urged upon him by friends.

"I am tickled to death that the president has the sentence at last," said Representative Reed, Republican of Illinois, Mitchell's counsel at the trial. He declined to discuss the case further.

In passing on the sentence, President Coolidge is admittedly faced with possible political consequences no matter what action he takes. Throughout the country, Mitchell has innumerable supporters who feel he has not been given a "fair deal" by the general staff of the army. This feeling has manifested itself repeatedly among Mitchell's friends in congress. They have castigated war department for bringing Mitchell to trial.

Some friends even have gone so far to introduce bills to wipe out the sentence and place Mitchell at the head of the army's air service.

Should the president approve a suspension for Mitchell, a sharp fight unquestionably therefore would be precipitated in congress to nullify the sentence.

There have been reports too, that Mitchell might run for congress. His friends discredit these reports, however.

Boys Are Held For Grand Jury

George Hicks and Jesse Crispin, two young boys arrested last week charged with stealing an automobile on Pine Grove avenue, waited examination in police court this morning and were held by Judge Shufeldt to await the action of the grand jury. Ball was fixed at $1,000 each. Unable to furnish it, the boys were remanded to the county jail. The car they attempted to steal had a battery that "went dead" when they attempted to start the car and they were unable to leave very far before being apprehended by the authorities.

Terrific Storms Sweep the Entire North Atlantic

British Freighter Antioch With Crew of 25 Is Feared Lost—One Death Reported—Worst Gale This Winter.

New York, Jan. 25.—Trans-Atlantic liners and other vessels were being tossed about at sea today in one of the worst gales of the winter. The British freighter Antioch, carrying a crew of 25, was reported in distress in a wireless message received this afternoon by the United States Line, whose liner, the President Roosevelt, went to the rescue of the Antioch.

Eleven liners, carrying more than 4,000 passengers, and due here today, were late and will not get into port until some time tomorrow.

Two small freighters collided off Delaware breakwater, causing the loss of one life.

The storm has been raging as far north as Labrador and as far south as Bermuda.

The freighter Antioch met trouble when two days out from Queenstown en route to the United States.

Sends Radio Message

Captain George Fried of the President Roosevelt, which went to the rescue of the Antioch, sent the following radio which was received by the United States Line this afternoon.

"Eight thirty a. m., January 24th. 'Picked up S. O. S. from Antioch. Proceeding, arrived alongside twelve noon. Heavy snow, strong westerly gale."

"Stood by 3 p. m., Sunday night. Lost trace of Antioch in snow squalls."

"Number three hatch stove in. All boats gone. Water in fire room. Radio out of order. Approximate position latitude 47 north, longitude 25 west. Standing by and continuing search."

Radio messages received today by various steamship companies told of liners being buffeted about in the storm. The eleven liners that will not dock until tomorrow, delayed hours by the gale, are the Leviathan, Sturgis, Transylvania, Camaria, Santa Lucia, Bolivia, Giuseppe Verdi, Virginia, Sylvia, Maravel and Mont Royal.

One of Crew Lost

In the crash off Delaware Breakwater the Norwegian freighter Solvang, bound from Cuba with sugar was rammed and sunk by the tanker Vacuum of the Vacuum Oil Company. All but one of the Solvang's crew was saved.

Ships that limped into port during the day showed evidences of having battled with the storm.

Officers said the entire North Atlantic is being swept by one of the most terrific wind and snow storms in years.

Nearly all boats from liners to tramp schooners, are a day or more late. All of them were badly battered by the storm.

Fear Antioch Sunk

Fear was expressed in nautical circles that the freighter Antioch, with its crew of 25 went down in the sea. The freighter, it was pointed out, carried grain—one of the most dangerous of all cargoes to carry during a severe storm.

The Antioch is a freighter of 2,079 tons and was owned by the Egypt and Levant Steamship Company of Liverpool.

SCULLY PAID $10 FOR NOT BLANKETING HORSE

Peter Scully, a young man residing at Hurley, was arrested Sunday evening by Officer Reedell on a charge of cruelty to animals. Scully had driven into Kingston that afternoon and left his horse in a stall and left the animal unblanketed. After a while, it was warned by the officer to put a blanket over the animal, but Scully not doing so, was again warned. On the officer placed him under arrest. Scully had a $10 fine for this offense. This morning Judge Shufeldt fined Scully $10.

Industry Shows More Activity

Survey Shows Increase In Employment and Average Weekly Wages—Employment Is Practically Same as Before the 1921 Depression.

New York, Jan. 25.—Industrial activity, which on the whole has been increasing ever since last July, when the period of spring and summer let-up came to an end, has regained its former momentum. Not only has employment steadily increased since July, but the average weekly earnings of those now employed have regained the same high level that prevailed early in 1925 and just before the slump in 1924, according to monthly studies of wages, hours and employment by the National Industrial Conference Board, 247 Park avenue. The return to this comparatively high level of earnings of the workers, together with steadily increasing employment, the conference board's study declares, indicates that at this level the elements of production, wages and other costs and prices are well balanced.

Employment in November showed an increase of 1.8 per cent over October, and a total increase of nearly 6 per cent since July, 1925, according to the last monthly study of the board, covering 25 different industries employing a total of about 700,000 wage earners. With the November gain, employment now for the first time is practically the same as it was before the 1924 depression set in.

Average weekly earnings in all industries increased slightly during the month, making the fourth consecutive increase since last July, and representing an average weekly gain of 82 cents per worker over the July earnings.

Most notable during the month of November was the increased activity of the agricultural implement industry, showing a gain in employment of 8 per cent, the employment index for this industry rising from 71.3 to 77.0 in November, while the average working week in this industry increased from 49.6 to 50.5 hours. Substantial increases in employment were also reported by the chemical, electrical manufacturing, iron and steel, meat packing, paint and varnish, wool and rubber industries. In all, 18 of the 25 industries covered by the study showed gains in employment. Average work hours per week in all industries showed a slight gain, from 48.3 to 48.5 hours.

Average weekly earnings of all wage earners included in the study in November were 116 per cent greater than in July, 1914. "Real" weekly earnings, indicating the amount of goods the worker can buy with his wages in supplying the ordinary needs of his family, in November were 26 per cent higher than in July, 1914. Owing to slight increases in the cost of living in October and November, "real" hourly and "real" weekly earnings showed a slight decline for November.

Water Power in Sweden

A Swedish waterfall now runs the trolleys in Copenhagen, the capital of Denmark, thanks to the completion recently of the most powerful electric cable ever laid under water. Replacing a smaller cable that had been in use since 1914, it is capable of transmitting 50,000 volts and thereby adds "white coal" on a large scale to the list of Swedish articles of export. Besides the Copenhagen trolleys, the electricity transmitted under water also runs factory machinery and gives light to the city and the surrounding countryside. Crossing the sound, or strait, that separates Sweden and Denmark at its narrowest point, the new cable leaves Sweden at Helsingborg and enters Denmark at Elsinore within sight of the hamlet castle Kronborg. In length it is about three and a half miles, and its weight is more than 200 tons. It was made in six sections, and the "eleave" covered joints, completed as the cable was being laid, are of a new type. To hold the cable ship steady, six anchors were used. The cost of the new cable is about $500,000, defrayed jointly by the Swedish power company and Danish municipalities. The power comes from the River Lagan, in southwestern Sweden.

Fool Query Well Answered

Two women were being shown about an asylum for the insane. One muttered up enough courage to address a patient, and being curious to know if he realized where he was, asked: "Is this a hospital for the insane?" To this tactless question, the patient quickly replied: "No, ma'am, this is a hospital for the intelligent."

Dainty Scarfs in Brilliant Colors

Attractive Neckwear From Many Countries Now on Display.

It is interesting to see the suggestion of nationality that is expressed in the great variety of things for the neck now shown by all the shops, large and small. On long showcases, says a fashion writer in the New York Times are gay, silk crepe and chiffon scarfs that might be taken for the fags of France, Italy or any other country. These scarfs are either printed in the different colors on one piece, or are made of strips of alternating materials. Stunning effects are given in red, orange, blue or green material in three-inch lengths sewn together. Plaids and checks are equally popular. Many Scotch tartans may be traced in the patterns of the latest and most picturesque neck scarfs.

In the departments of neckwear this idea is illustrated in Roman stripes, Scotch plaids and the printed designs characteristic of many foreign peoples. Now that gowns are worn high in the neck there has been a demand for many forms of neckwear. There are waistcoats of plain goods, severely tailored, of showy stripes in two colors, in black and white and in checks that may properly be described as "bond." The small plaid patterns are used also in yokes with little revers, collars and cravat.

Checkered Print Is Used for an Afternoon Frock

Checkers is the handsome American print used for this attractive frock which is combined with a plain-tone silk.

Hints on Fashions Now Calling for Attention

Flimsy affairs of georgette or chiffon are being worn at dancing parties by the younger girls. These are rather high waisted with full skirts billowing to the knees and completed with sleeves tight to the elbow and flaring at the wrist. One novel adornment of such frocks is a drooping bow of chiffon, embroidered in rhinestones, which springs from one shoulder strap. Brims which have been turned up sharply some time ago now turned down, according to London milliners. The brims are not allowed to flop down, however. The fur felt sports hats are fairly high, of crown and the brims are made with a steel wire edge to hold them in shape. A big bow at the back is the sole decoration of some of these hats. Others are turned up in the back and down in front.

The new woolen sports fabrics designed for wear in, to and from the South this season are not only soft in texture but in color. The new shades follow the tints grouped under the name bois de rose, rose tans, rose grays and dusty tans and grays. Green is also an important shade with emphasis on the light tints. The blues usually have a distinct touch of green. The designs include two-toned diamond effects and checks.

Dress designers are insisting now that evening wraps should always reveal the dress with which they are worn in color. Thus an evening wrap of a contrasting color should be lined in the same colored satin or tulle as the dress. The checked coats and capes are also being treated.

Evenings' essential for wear to sleep in are soft of texture and simple of line. These worn in flannel pajamas to lounge in are simply elaborate as to material. The trousers usually are of black satin gradually lightening from knee to ankle and the tops of floral brocade, heavily embroidered. The coats may even be fur trimmed at collar and hem.

Velvet Is Popular for Day and Evening Wear

Velvet is indubitably the fabric of the moment. One has only to view the collections of models, shown by important couturiers and modistes, to study the costumes of women lounging at the Ritz in Paris or attending the premiere of a much-heralded new play to realize that not only has fashion given her cachet to this material but that the smartest women have taken it up with enthusiasm. To be sure, it shares honors with laces and brocades, but the frequent alliance of these materials makes for the quintessence of chic.

Two-piece jumper frocks of dull silver cloth are worn under velvet coats; in other instances both jumper and coat are of velvet, while the skirt is a circular or plaited affair of silver or gold lace.

The dominance of the evening ensemble remains unchallenged and in its smartest interpretation it takes the form of a frock of lute topped by a flaring coat of the same material lined throughout with velvet in a brilliant shade, and luxuriously collared with fur.

Dyed Furs Play Part in Milady's Apparel

This fashion of dyed fur is already in currency among styles worn on Fifth avenue, says a New York fashion writer. A fanciful suit of novelty tweed, with circular skirt topped by a circular jacket, was headed in bright green mode, which also formed the tiny Queen Anne collar. The same fur mode in a clear shade of blue formed an entire coat, made full length and straight faced, and matched by a little velvet hat.

Naturally enough, colored furs are not restricted to wraps. An evening frock of gold-embroidered net over yellow matches its foundation with a double skirt border of yellow fur, which divides the sheer, circular skirt. Dyed points, in soft narrow bands, may also be employed as little brims on hats of felt or velvet.

Farm Bureau At Flatbush

The annual winter meeting of the Flatbush Farm Bureau community scheduled for Tuesday, January 26, will be held in the club rooms of the T. X. T. Club on the Flatbush state road beginning at 10:30 a. m. The program arranged by the committee is planned to be of interest to fruit growers and poultrymen since they are the two leading agricultural interests in the community. The poultry speaker will be Professor H. C. Ogilvie of Cornell, who will speak on "Feeding of Broilers and Layers," attacking his subject from the standpoint of the sunshine angle. Dr. Lester Ogilvie will also have something to say on the methods advised in giving baby chicks a proper start.

Fruit growers will come to hear Professor C. R. Crocker, fruit entomologist at Cornell. Professor Crocker has the advantage of many years' experience in research and extension work, and will endeavor to outline the most effective methods for controlling fruit pests.

State Trooper Blamed for Wreck

Washington, Jan. 25.—Action of New York State Trooper Brockman in driving his automobile into the side of a passenger train on the Lehigh Valley near Gretna Junction on October 5, 1925, caused the death of the driver of the train, the interstate commerce commission held today. Brockman was injured and two other state troopers riding with him were killed.

The commission held that if Brockman had exercised proper care in approaching the crossing the accident would not have occurred. As there is heavy travel over this crossing, the commission indicated that some additional form of protection for highway traffic is required.

Brockman will be served at 12:45 p. m. on Jan. 26. He is being held in the Lehigh Valley jail. Brockman was a member of the Lehigh Valley Troop. He was a member of the Lehigh Valley Troop. He was a member of the Lehigh Valley Troop.

RODOUT MASON TO ATTEND CHURCH SERVICE

Rodout Lodge, No. 342, F. & A. M., has accepted an invitation from the Rev. Charles D. Smith, pastor of the Werts Street Baptist Church, to attend services next Sunday evening, January 31. It is hoped that all members of the lodge and visiting brethren will make a special effort to attend and meet Mr. Smith, who has been a member of the fraternity for many years. The members of Kingston Chapter, No. 135, O. E. S., are also planning to attend this service in a body.

Three negroes die for murder of young man. Reading, Pa., Jan. 25.—Three negroes, Robert Bruce, 45, Brown Street, 23, and Leonard Crocker, 25, all negroes, were electrocuted in Rockview prison here today for the murder of Jonathan "Pop" 23, who was killed during the hours of a storm.

These having confessed killing the boy that ended Crocker's life, went to the gallows, fighting to the end to save his two companions and pleading that they be permitted to live with their families.

Entertainment at The Auto Show

Talent procurable will be obtained for afternoon and evening shows. Day while Kingston's Big Show is in progress at armory.

The Kingston Automobile Show will be held at the armory February 2 to 6 inclusive. It is one of the biggest shows held in Kingston. The committee in charge is making arrangements for the best of entertainment on each day of the show. Zucca's orchestra will furnish music and the entertainment and music program will be broadcast direct from the armory over station WDBZ. The station has been engaged for every day of the week that it is allowed to go on the air under its agreement and programs will be sent out direct from the armory.

A fund of $1,000 will be devoted to entertainment at the show, a fund which has never before been secured. Only the best of entertainment will be secured and the acts will be on both afternoon and evening.

A special feature which will be included in the reserving of four shows in the center of the armory is the platform for the entertainment and band. A platform seven feet high will be erected so that it will be unobstructed by the cars at the show and visible from all parts of the armory.

Spaces are being arranged for and it is expected that about a dozen of local dealers will be represented at the show with a large number of cars.

WILL HELP HANDLE LEGION'S FINANCES

Leonard P. Ayres, whose reputation as a statistician is international and who is vice president of a Cleveland trust company, recently became a member of the National Finance committee of the American Legion. Mr. Ayres was appointed by National Commander John H. McQuigg to the position which he himself held on the finance committee prior to his election to the command.

Mr. Ayres organized the statistical divisions of the War department, which have become models for other governments. Mr. Ayres held the rank of colonel during the war and was the only civilian soldier ever to head a division of the general staff abroad. The statistical division of Pershing's headquarters at Chaumont, the statistical division of the service of supply and the statistical division in the War department at Washington were all organized by the new member of the Legion committee.

After the armistice, Mr. Ayres was a member of the United States peace commission, headed by the late President Woodrow Wilson, and was chief statistician and economic adviser to the commission. He held a similar position with the commission, headed by Vice President Charles G. Dawes, which helped to work out the so-called Dawes plan for reparations settlements.

Before his entry into the United States service in 1917, Mr. Ayres was statistician for the allied statistical board, priorities board, war industries board and the interallied purchasing commission. For his services during the war Mr. Ayres was given the Distinguished Service medal.

Since the armistice Mr. Ayres has held the rank of a colonel in the reserves and is now statistical consultant to the War department. He wrote the War department's statistical history of the World war, a book which has been used as text by other governments in adding a statistical division to their war offices.

Prior to America's entry into the World war, Mr. Ayres pointed out, no army or military bureau had ever had a statistical department. "Wars used to be fought by armies," he said. "But the World war mobilized industrial, financial and man power resources of the nations. Naturally, statistical machinery was a vital adjunct. America was the first to appreciate this."

As a member of the National Finance committee, Mr. Ayres will assist in the safekeeping and allotment of the funds of the Legion. This committee makes out the budgets of all divisions and committees of the national organization and assists other units of the organization in financial planning.

Mr. Ayres was born in Connecticut in 1872. He holds degrees from Boston and Columbia universities.

Irrepressible Willie
To little Willie had been assigned the task of entertaining, temporarily, his mother's guest. For lack of something better to say, he asked her how she had enjoyed her vacation.

"Why, I haven't been away," she replied.

"How must of been mistaken, then," rejoined Willie. "I heard her tell her bridge club that you and your husband had been at Swanton Palace for a long time!"—American Legion Weekly.

At a Profit
A doctor had just finished taking the temperature of a stock broker, who was suffering from a raging fever.

"It's gone to 102," he announced in a hoarse voice, reading the thermometer.

The indignant patient raised himself on his elbow.

"What's that?" he shouted.—American Legion Weekly.

ELAND AND VICUNA

"I'm an antelope," said Mr. Eland. "That's nothing," said Mrs. Eland. "What do you mean by saying that that is nothing?" asked Mr. Eland. "Isn't it something, and a very great something, too, to be an eland? Isn't it, now, isn't it?"

"To be sure," said Mrs. Eland. "But you said that you were an antelope, which is another name for us, or, rather, elands belong to the great family of antelopes or deer, and you said it as though you thought you were a king."

"My dear Mrs. Eland," said Mr. Eland. "I am better than a king."

"You're better than a king," said Mrs. Eland in a very much surprised tone of voice. "I wouldn't be so conceited, if I were you."

"I don't mean to be conceited," said Mr. Eland. "And perhaps I shouldn't have said that I was better than a king."

"I am glad you think better of it," said Mrs. Eland.

"I don't think better of it," said Mr. Eland. "But I really should have said that I was more fortunate than a king."

"Oh," said Mrs. Eland, "that is different."

"I should have said," continued Mr. Eland, "that I was more fortunate than a king. Eland, paying no attention to Mrs. Eland's smile, "that I was far luckier than a king."

"Well, you about said it the second time you spoke when you said you were more fortunate than a king," said Mrs. Eland. "It comes to the same thing."

"Only goes to show that I mean what I say when I repeat it twice and do it the honor to use two different words to mean the same thing."

"You're talking nonsense," said Mrs. Eland. "What do you mean when you say you do it the honor? What do you honor so?"

"I honor what I said," replied Mr. Eland proudly. "Yes, I would not be a king for anything. They have no kings in the zoo, no real kings. Kings are not kept in cages, but are free so they can be killed like elands."

"But people do not kill kings as they do elands," said Mrs. Eland. "They don't care, nor have they cared how many elands they have killed when they have found them in Africa, and that is why we are becoming rather rare."

"No matter whether they do or not," said Mr. Eland. "I would rather be an eland in the zoo and be fed and well looked after than be a king on a throne looking after others."

And now the Llama and Vicuna near by had greeted each other, and the Llama was asking the Vicuna and the Vicuna was asking the Llama why each went through life with such a queer name. Only the Llama had asked first.

"Be Nice to Me, Cousin Llama."

"Your name isn't so simple," said Vicuna, "as boy or girl or cat or pig makes for a simple name."

"I don't know whether a boy or girl would like to be put in the same class with pigs," said the Llama.

"I wasn't putting them in the same class. I was mentioning each one by itself, one at a time. But I do not consider my name is queer. I belong to the same big family to which you belong. We are all called camelids, because we are all somewhat like camels without the hump."

"You might as well say that boys are like birds, only without the wings," said the Llama.

"You're trying to be bright," said the Vicuna, "but you know that what I say is true."

"I am different from the rest of the great family because I haven't long hair. I am small and dainty and my coat is such a pretty shade of brown I have a small and pretty head."

"In fact," said the Llama, "you don't like yourself at all."

"I do like myself very much," said the Vicuna. "What made you think I didn't?"

"I didn't think so," said the Llama. "What made you ask so, then?" asked the Vicuna.

"I thought one could take a look," said the Llama, "and you know that I was only saying what I said in fun and in sarcasm, too. Sarcasm, you know, means teasing and taunting and sneering."

"It means three things, then," said the Vicuna. "Well, good for you, but you shouldn't hear at me, Mr. Llama. For I'm queer and interesting. Sometimes I'll bite and sometimes I'll feel like being petted. Just now I feel friendly, so be nice to me, Cousin Llama." And the Llama talked pleasantly with the Vicuna.

KINGSTON LEADS COUNTRY IN "CHEVY" ACTIVITY

From the Chevrolet Motor Car Company plant at Tarrytown comes the news that Kingston, Ulster county, leads the United States. Suttill, Inc., of this city, distributors for Ulster and Greene county for the Chevrolet product, is not only the leading dealer in December for this territory but leads all other dealers in the United States in the selling of "Chevrolet" certificates. Mr. Suttill and his selling staff came through the December certificate campaign with a quota per centage of 1633. Troy came second with a per centage of 1275 and Derby, Conn., was third with 1200 per cent. For the month the Tarrytown district led the United States with over 347 per cent of its quota. The Atlantic coast region led all other regions in the United States with 134 per cent of its quota. Since Tarrytown in the leading district and Kingston leads the Tarrytown district, Kingston is placed at the head of the dealers in the United States in point of number of certificates sold.

The January "Sales News" of the Tarrytown factory devotes its contents to the Suttill, Inc., victory. It appears a photograph of Roy M. Suttill, the winning dealer with his customary smile and his four salesmen, Frank "Father" Germain, who sold 22 certificates in 22 days; Doyle Suttill, sales manager; Sam "Rough Rider" Morgan and Bob "Rud" Thompson.

Over the photograph is the caption, "This is the bunch that led the zone—that led the Region—that led the United States."

Learning things

CHILDREN aren't taught words by syllables any more, but by their meanings. They learn it's the use of a word that counts—not merely its pleasing sound.

When you buy, you know it's the use of a product that counts, not merely its pleasing sound. You can learn its uses and all it means—before you buy. If you read the advertisements, you know definitely how a certain refrigerator will act in your own kitchen how that furniture polish will improve your own chairs. What is advertised has to do what it's advertised to do. Advertisements are honest. They invite too many thousands of testers not to be honest. Their continued advertising proves them honest! You take advertised facts on faith—as you take the dictionary on faith. You know that the perfume, hosiery, canned goods they describe are the perfumes, hosiery, canned goods widely enjoyed. You read advertisements to know the true meaning of things before you invest in their use.

Think Old Enemy Killed Butler

Herbert Brammal, Butler for James R. Deering, Opens Door to Answer to Summons and Is Shot Dead.

New York, Jan. 25.—Detectives today were attempting to link the slaying of Herbert Brammal, 37, butler for James R. Deering, with an attack by a slagger on Miss Mary Page in the same Fifth avenue neighborhood.

Brammal was shot and killed last night when he opened the door of the Deering home in answer to summons. Mrs. Deering narrowly escaped the assassin's bullets by pausing a moment before she approached the door.

Both homes are but a few doors from the homes of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Chauncey M. Depew and other prominent citizens. The assassin escaped unidentified in both cases. The only clue the police had found today was an empty .38 calibre pistol shell from the cartridge that killed Brammal.

Detectives are working on the theory that the butler was slain by an old enemy. Frances Lovell, the cook, said Brammal's assailant had not attempted to enter the house but that there was a terrific struggle at the door. Brammal, according to police, had been with the Deering family three years having come from the service of the Biddies of Philadelphia and previous from the household of the Duke of Northumberland where he had been for two years after his discharge from the British army.

The circumstances of the attack on Miss Page are strikingly similar to the incident at the Deering home. Answering a summons at the door Miss Page was struck on the head with a blackjack. The intruder also fired a shot, she said. She could assign no motive for the attack.

Will Celebrate C. E. Birthday

The annual meeting of the Reformed Church of the Comforter was held on Thursday evening, January 14th. The past year has been a most successful one. Forty-six have been received into the fellowship of the church making a total of 480 communicant members. The different organizations are in a flourishing condition and show a balance on the right side of the ledger.

The report of the Ladies' Aid Society surprised everyone. It showed that about $2,400.00 had been raised during the year. Over $4,000.00 have been received during the twelve months towards the new church hall. After deducting all duplications, the total amount actually received for all purposes aggregates $10,958.00.

After the business session and a delightful program, the people were invited to the dining room where all partook of delicious refreshments served by the Ladies' Aid Society. The Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe completed eleven years as pastor the first of November and during those years through the harmonious and united efforts of pastor and people, the church has more than doubled its membership and the financial contributions have increased more than four hundred per cent.

Hookworm in Holy Land

The present methods of agriculture are blamed for the introduction of hookworm into the Holy land. Dr. A. Felix, of the Rothschild hospital in Palestine, who found that about one out of every twelve workmen in the orange groves is affected by the disease, attributes it to the increased use of irrigation in the land. "It is very difficult to trace the source of the infection," said Doctor Felix, "but Egypt, where the hookworm disease is known to exist, is the most likely source because of the large number of Egyptian soldiers who worked here during the war."

Dodges Death

Will Celebrate C. E. Birthday

The founding of the Christian Endeavor movement forty-five years ago by the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, will be appropriately celebrated Wednesday evening in the chapel of the Fair Street Reformed Church with a get-together social and supper of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union. The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. G. W. Rockwell of Catskill. It is expected that every society in the union will be represented by delegates at the supper and meeting that evening.

Improved Type of Glass

A new kind of glass, called pottopas, that will not splinter when broken, is made in Austria by condensation process, like bakelite and other synthetic resins, by the action of formaldehyde on a simple organic chemical, urea. The new resin is perfectly transparent, elastic, magnifying when made into a lens, has considerable strength and a fair degree of hardness.

That What Smart Folks Wore Along the Riviera Should Help You Decide Your Southern Wardrobe.

While these days nothing like as tropical as our Palm Beach, the Riviera is warm enough for resort clothes such as are worn on cool days at our own Southern shores.

Stripes of the handwork decorative a jumper frock of pale green crepe de chine, which achieves added distinction from a high collar, tied at one side, semi-trimmed with patches, and a wide pleated skirt.

Just as wool jersey registered as the material which beyond question has the greatest place in the season of women's fashions, so kasha registered ed as the most approved fabric along the Riviera. One means of course, genuine cloth since Rodier's factory is in France. There are kasha ensembles, and kasha coats which seem to be individual but which have a happy way of complementing idealized frocks in crepe, for instance. Yes, pleated frocks for it seems the general order of things that skirts should be pleated either in groups, or all around. There are ever so many types of pleating ranging from box pleats to the finest accordion effects. Kasha is usually box-pleated. Some coats have one or two pleats starting under a low placed hip pocket or some such arrangement. The straightline coats are frequently of embroidered or patterned kasha. A favorite model shows a strap down the center of the back, this either embroidered or of figured kasha extending either half way or down the entire length of the coat.

Natural or a light grayish beige, combined with brown and sometimes with brown plus red, green or yellow is the favorite color scheme, topped usually by a felt hat of the brown or brighter shade. A week on the Riviera has disclosed but two straw hats, even shop windows being neglectful of them. There are many suits worn here, usually in novelty woolsens with all over patterns, short jacketed and frequently terns, or in kasha. They are nearly double-breasted. Coats for the ensemble suits are of course longer.

Skinny People Need Iron with Cod Liver Oil

Easy to Take in New Tablet Form
How to Order at the Drug Store

Surprise those who have been calling you "skinny" behind your back. Fill out hollows. Have well-rounded limbs. Get plump, ruddy cheeks.

Take the world's two famous body builders—Iron and Cod Liver Oil. Not the old, nauseous, fishy kind of cod liver oil, but the new kind made by extracting the vitamins and other body-building, health-giving elements and throwing the useless oil away.

Speedily Burke's Cod Liver Oil and Iron Tablets at any first class drug store. See how quickly you build up. Cod Liver Oil and Iron is a combination sure to increase your weight and build energy.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, a creamed cod liver oil that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the bronchus, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Mud's Important Part in Earth's Formation

Importance of mud and the part it played in the earth's formation was the theme of a lecture by a noted Welsh geologist speaking on Welsh geology at Cardiff. He affirmed that mud was one of nature's most important productions—a commodity without which man could not live. Changes in the earth's crust had profoundly altered the "muds" which had been formed in past periods of the earth's history. One of the most interesting of rocks produced by the alteration of mud was slate, and the slates for which north Wales was so famous were formed during a period when that part of the earth's crust was in a condition of violent unrest, and some very ancient muds were intensely squeezed. The effect of the squeezing was to compress the mud and to twist its particles round until they all came to lie in the same relative direction like two fragments of paper lying flat. The result of this, and other changes which accompanied it, was to make it possible to split the rock into thin sheets like cardboard.

Limit on Press Agent

"Quoting in the preceding generation forged ahead without the aid of a press agent," said a magazine editor the other day in a speech. As a general rule perhaps. But there are exceptions. Pierre Van Paasweert, writing in the Atlantic Constitution, comments on the case of Lizzy. When he first began to play in public he was to placate those his fame had not preceded him. One evening there were only a dozen persons in the auditorium. Instead of playing, he invited them all to supper, where he treated them to trifles and game and champagne and cognac and all the delirium in motion. Then he sat down at the piano and played for his guests for two hours, as only he could play. A few days later he announced another recital, in a larger hall. It was filled to capacity, but the audience was not invited to supper. As a press agent, evidently, Lizzy could have given points to the best of our days.

GEORGE IV

GEORGE IV seems to have been the last of the ancient order of kings—the last of those who could do as they chose without regard to morals or public opinion. Where, a few generations before him, immorality and extravagance were taken as matters of course by the people, in George IV's time they brought down great unpopularity on his head.

He was the eldest son of George III, was born August 12, 1762, at St. James palace, and was naturally rather gifted. His tutor said he would be either the most polished gentleman, or the worst scoundrel in Europe—and he was both. He opposed his father in everything; took up a separate residence at Carlton house, but gave it up because of his debts; and was constantly having parliament vote huge sums to square him up with his creditors.

There was one good influence in his life: the beautiful Mrs. Fitzherbert, a widow at twenty-five, and older than the prince. He was passionately devoted to her—an open marriage was impossible, of course, and she was a Catholic besides, but the pope assured her that her marriage was valid. For almost ten years they lived together, mostly at Brighton, until his actions caused her to separate from him. Then he consented to marry the German princess Charlotte, whom he treated so brutally that she, too, was forced to separate from him. Twenty-five years after this he became king, and died after a ten-year reign. His treatment of the queen added to his unpopularity. Politically his reign was not so very important.

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21—Senator Willis Was a Farm Laborer.

AT THE age of twenty-one my ambitions were beyond what I was doing but for a ready means of livelihood I combined the duties of farm laborer and schoolteacher. In my spare time I studied.

Teaching eventually led me into a professorship of law at the University of Northern Ohio, from which college I got my B. A. when I was twenty-two.—Frank E. Willis.

TODAY—Senator Willis is one of the most noted politicians in the country. Aside from his legislative work he has established a high reputation as an orator and is in continual demand for public speaking.

In 1915 Mr. Willis was elected governor of Ohio and he was sent to the senate six years later.

St. Mary's Parish Does Big Work

Financial Report Reflects Active Interest Which Members Take in Their Church and Its Numerous Activities—Expended $154,154.89 During Past Year.

Sunday morning the financial report of St. Mary's Church was presented to the congregation by the pastor, the Very Rev. Joseph B. Scully, showing a wonderful financial condition and a large amount of money expended in improvements and additions during the past year.

The report shows there was received from all sources and for all purposes during the year $61,283.95. There was expended for parish expenses, school, charitable enterprises and general items $23,744.90 for improvements and new construction $104,405.09, and for reduction of church debt $10,000, making a total amount expended for all purposes during the year of $154,154.89.

The remarkable showing reflects great credit on the parishioners of St. Mary's Church under the leadership of their pastor, Dean Scully. During the year the handsome new convent on Broadway has been completed and equipped at a cost of almost $70,000. The spire of the church has been repaired and resurfaced with slate and the chapel adjoining the church has been completely renovated, a new altar installed, a beautiful new painting hung over the altar and all the appointments remodeled and brought up to date. A new oil-burning heating plant has been installed in the church and new statuary placed.

Besides the material work of the parish the spiritual work and social and recreational work has also been well looked after. The Rosary Society is composed of the women of the parish is constantly increasing its membership as well as the Holy Name Society for the men. These societies, along with the Children of Mary Society, show increasing attendance at each monthly communion. They undertake much parish work such as the care of the church, altars and appointments, etc.

The recreational work among the youth of the parish is being featured by basketball and other games participated in by the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Junior Holy Name and Senior Holy Name societies.

All in all the parish affairs of St. Mary's Church are in a most healthy financial, social and spiritual condition and the parishioners have added much to the beauty of the buildings of the city by the handsome group now composing the church property, the valuation of which has been placed at $500,000.

The progressive leader of this parish, Father Scully, has been pastor but a few years, yet has accomplished great results and as a mark of appreciation of this work was recently appointed dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, by His Eminence Cardinal Hayes. Dean Scully was also recently appointed regional supervisor of Catholic hospitals for the Atlantic seaboard.

MISS SCHMIDTKE'S PUPILS GIVE MUSICAL SOCIAL

On Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a number of junior pupils of Miss M. Schmidtke gave a musical in the new assembly hall of the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street. The entire class and their friends were invited making a large and appreciative audience. The young students who were making their first essay at concert playing did themselves justice and presented a very good performance. After the program Miss Schmidtke gave a short talk on music, besides giving some helpful hints and suggestions for practice. Then followed a social hour, refreshments being served. The program was as follows:

Loeb Leads Scores.
New York, Jan. 25.—In unofficial averages made public today Carl Loeb, Princeton forward, had replaced "Red" Laub of Columbia as the individual scoring leader of the intercollegiate basketball league. Loeb was credited with 38 points and Laub 36. The latter, however, played in one game less than the Princeton star.

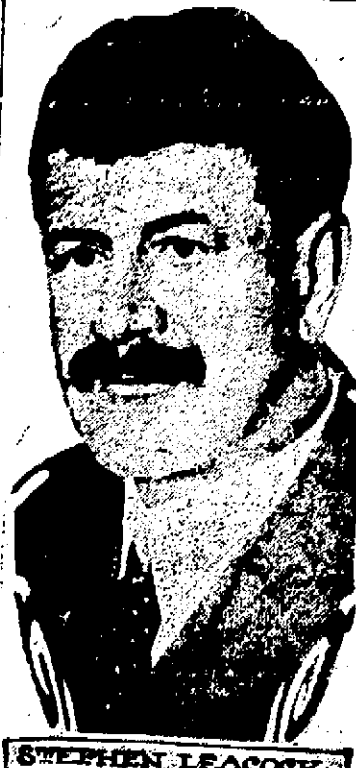

Other leaders were Mannheim and Rothenfeld, Columbia, with 22 points.

Birthplace of "The Raven"
Edwin Markham says that "The Raven," by many called the masterpiece of Edgar Allan Poe's genius, had been composed some time before 1845 at a country homestead whose site is now occupied by a factory on Eighty-fourth street between Amsterdam avenue and Broadway, New York. The homestead was owned by Patrick Brennan, who in the summer of 1843 received as guests Poe and his wife and his mother-in-law.

Sad's Expense No Bar to Butterfly's Flight

Not many people realize that some kinds of butterflies make enormous flights. It has been recently proved that these frail insects may journey thousands of miles, although why they should move about in this way is somewhat of a mystery.

How the butterflies manage to cross miles of ocean is a matter which it is difficult to explain. It has been suggested they may have some way of resting on the water, although this has never been proved to be the case. Certain it is that when settled in a locality, painted lady butterflies never appear to make long flights and spend virtually all their time sitting from one flower to another.

Another point which has to be cleared up is whether after this tremendous migration the butterflies make any attempt at a return journey. If there should be a flight toward the south at the end of the summer, it is probable that the insects would belong to a later generation than those that migrated in the spring. As is well known, the life of an individual butterfly is short and in most cases does not extend to more than a few weeks.—S. Leonard Bastin, in St. Nicholas.

RESULTS OF GAMES AT PORT EWEN COURT

Friday night, Port Ewen fans witnessed the first basketball game to be played in the new church house of the Port Ewen Methodist Church.

In the preliminary game the Port Ewen Juniors were defeated by the Trinity Juniors in a lively tussle. Young Thompson starred for Trinity. Manna and Short were the point gatherers for Port Ewen.

The second game played by the Senior team of the two churches was hard fought. The Port Ewen Seniors were the victors by a 4-2 score. During the entire game the Trinity boys were unable to find the hoop for a two-pointer. On the other hand Port Ewen shot three fields, Hauck being the leading scorer.

S. A. QUINTET LOST TO HEDDING M. E. TEAM

The powerful Hedding M. E. outfit of Poughkeepsie still has a clear record over Kingston quintets, being successful Saturday afternoon at Epworth Hall in defeating the strong Salvation Army team. The final score read: Hedding, 33; Salvation Army, 24. The Bridge City team's machine like defense and accurate passing game, topped off with unusual shooting prowess in which every man was equally proficient, proved too much for Captain Miller's team. The Hedding crew displayed a clever play which was often employed to register timely markers. Joyce was the big scorer of the affair with 11 points.

The score:

Hedding M. E.	F.G.	F.P.	T.P.
Glasstetter, f.	3	0	6

Best Golfing Average Is Won by Willie Melhorn

Twelve of the leading professional golfers of the country finished with an average of better than 75 for their year's tournament play. These figures were based only on those who had taken part in twelve or more rounds of championship play.

Willie Melhorn, who threatened to win several titles the past year, but didn't, had the best mark, 72.33 strokes for twelve rounds.

Willie Macfarlane, the United States open champion for seventeen rounds, had an average of 73.23. He was third in the rating. MacDonald Smith being second to Melhorn with 72.44.

Will Klein, who played more championship rounds than any other professional, twenty-nine to be exact, had a mark of 74.55, bringing up the tail end of the list.

Hong Kong Lee, aged twenty-seven, an American-born Chinese and popular in boxing circles in San Francisco as a heavyweight, has a record of eight knockouts.

By making a score of 100 to 0 the Lyons high school of Rochester, N. Y., established what is believed to be a record for basket ball, when its team met the Macedon high in a recent game.

Among new freak golf clubs is one in the form of a comb for use in playing out of water. Another driver has a bored tube in the head of a club filled with quicksilver to give added weight and "whip" in playing.

Reliable estimates place more than 600,000 school children in athletic competition in Greater New York alone. There are a million attending schools in the city, therefore six out of ten participate in some branch of athletics.

The New York Yankees lost 31 games this season by a margin of one run, showing that the team possessed little scoring resourcefulness. The Yankee team tournament is of the sort that can lull ordinary pitching to the three corners with a slumbering, fitness that looks good and wins by a good-sized margin. But when opposing pitching is more complex the batting shelves off.

SAUGERTIES HIGH FIVE DEFEATED CAIRO TEAM

The Saugerties High School basketball team defeated the Cairo High School five in Saugerties on Friday night by a score of 66 to 12.

The preliminary games proved to be the fastest of the evening when the Trinity Scout troop defeated the reformed troop by a score of 12 to 9 and the Methodist troop defeated the St. Mary troop by the score of 6 to 5. The scout troops are all working hard to win the pennant and are playing some fast games.
